

EUROTECH PRODUCTS CONTRIBUTE TO SACLA, A WORLD LEADING X-RAY FREE ELECTRON LASER FACILITY

Amaro (Italy) – July 30th, 2012 – Eurotech Japanese subsidiary Advanet received a letter of appreciation from RIKEN and JASRI (Japan Synchrotron Radiation Research Institute) for their contribution to the construction of the X-Ray Free Electron Laser (XFEL) facility, 'SACLA' (SPRing-8 Angstrom Compact free electron Laser), which went into full operation this year.

SACLA enables the emission of light waves that are employed for the advancement of basic and applied science in many areas, including: Protein Structure Analysis, Nanotechnology, Ultra-High Speed Imaging, Cellular Biology, and Matter-Antimatter interaction.

Advanet, one of the first contributors to the project, participated in development of the accelerator controller of 'SPRing-8,' the world's largest third-generation synchrotron research facility. Advanet has been delivering small quantities of high-speed analog boards and CPU boards to the facility for 15 years. No further details have been disclosed.

About Eurotech

Eurotech (ETH.MI) is a global company that integrates hardware, software, services and expertise to deliver embedded computing platforms and sub-systems to leading OEMs, system integrators and enterprise customers for successful and efficient deployment of their products and services. Drawing on concepts of minimalist computing, Eurotech lowers power draw, minimizes physical size and reduces coding complexity to bring sensors, embedded platforms, sub-systems, ready-to-use devices and high performance computers to market, specializing in defense, transportation, industrial and medical segments. By combining domain expertise in wireless connectivity as well as communications protocols, Eurotech architects platforms that simplify data capture, processing and transfer over unified communications networks. Our customers rely on us to simplify their access to state-of-art embedded technologies so they can focus on their core competencies. Learn more about Eurotech at www.eurotech.com.
